SPAIN VERY DEFIANT

She Does Not Fear War With the United States.

THINKS SHE CAN HOLD HER OWN.

High Officials of Her War Office Interviewed on the Cuban Question—General Weyler Instructed to Hurry Up and Crush Out the Rebellion in Cuba, So as to Give No Pretext For Interference.

MADRID, Dec. 21.—The explicit announcement is made that Senor Dupuy de Lome, the Spanish minister at Washington, has telegraphed to his government here that he had a conference with Mr. Olney, the secretary of state, in the course of which the latter assured him that Spain might rest tranquil until March, at least, since, despite the attitude of congress, President Cleveland would not recognize the independence of Cuba.

A representative of the Associated Press sought to secure an expression from the war office on the relations with the United States, as influenced by the action of the senate foreign relations committee on the Cameron resolution. General Marcelo de Azcarraga, the minister of war, was suffering from an indisposition and was not able to be interviewed. But a number of high officials of the war office consented to talk on the subject.

These officials stated to the representative of the Associated Press that Captain-General Weyler in Cuba has received instructions to hurry up the campaign by the delivery of a bold stroke against the insurgents in order to prevent the Cubans from rallying from the disaster of Maceo's death and in order to deprive the Americans of any pretext for a demand for Cuban independence.

It was added that Spain was quite able to meet the situation and can promptly mobilize as many as 500,000 fresh troops in addition to those now engaged in Cuba and the Philippines. The officials of the war department explained that large orders have been placed abroad for arms and ammunition and Spain's rifle and munition factories are working day and night to provide against any possible external complications that may arise in Cuba or the Philippines.

"The war office," said one of the high officials in that department, "will not provoke war with Spain from any contest upon which depends the national honor. The army can rely upon absolute support with patriotic enthusiasm and with the entire resources of the country. We can land half a million more soldiers in Cuba within three months. We believe the principal inhabitants of Cuba would unconditionally support Spain against the Americans."

War office officials also assert that Captain General Weyler's army will not be allowed to return to the Spanish peninsula except as victors. It is claimed that General Azcarraga, minister of war, is considered the ablest though quietest organizer of modern times and that he is perfectly able to carry out the war office statement that if circumstances compel them to do so, they are ready to meet complications with the United States.

Senor Emilio Castellar, the distinguished Spanish Republican, was asked to supply to the Associated Press an expression of his opinion on the relations between Spain and the United States. In reply, Senor Castellar gave the following signed statement:

"Inspired by high patriotism, joined with a great appreciation of the American people, I believe that the sense of justice and a material interest of the majority of the people of the United States will prevent a war with Spain, through whose instrumentality the new world was discovered, by which Americans have been most highly benefitted."

In the course of an interview Senor Castellar said further that he was acting as a bond of union between the Liberals and Conservatives in order to secure the agreement of all parties in Spain to ward off or repel any outrage upon the national honor. He had secured a good understanding, he said, between Senor Canovas del Castillo, president of the council, and Senor Sagasta, ex-premier of the Liberal government, thus strengthening the hands of the government to carry out the necessary measures to satisfy the reasonable demands of outsiders and affording content to the colonies, while always defending the national honor.

Senor Castellar considers that if she were pushed to desperation, Spain could inflict serious damage upon the United States in case of war. "She can not refuse it while right and honor are on her side. Nor would Spain be alone. Grave international complications would ensue."

Senor Castellar pointed out that he considers international wars at the present day a disgrace to modern civilization. Such a war, he thought, would be more illogical for the United States than for any other nation. He regarded the United States as the model for all other nations in avoiding wars and seeking the settlement of international disputes by arbitration.

A dispatch received here from Havana says that the rebels in Santa Clara province have been scattered into small groups and have thus been made powerless to resist the activity of the Spanish cavalry.

The Spanish government is informed that the Dutch government has given orders to its colonists to prevent the exportation of arms and ammunition of war, for the rebels in the Philippine islands.

YELLOW JACK IN HAVANA.

About 14,000 Sick Spanish Soldiers in the Hospitals.

HAVANA, Dec. 21.—There are about 14,000 sick soldiers in hospitals in and about Havana. The regular hospitals speedily became overcrowded and warehouses and other large buildings are now used for the purpose. Four hundred and thirty-eight cases of yellow fever have been reported in this city in the last seven days.

Smallpox continues epidemic, but is chiefly among civilians, few cases being reported among the soldiers. The disease has assumed the hemorrhagic form, a severe type and there are many deaths daily.

No attempt is made to isolate smallpox.

The army has had a great deal of sickness to contend with. There have been numerous yellow fever cases, the cases of simple chills and fever have exceeded the usual figures 10 to 1, and the country has been so rank with malaria that the unacclimated troops have suffered severely.

The government was compelled to temporarily dispossess hundreds of orphans in La Beneficencia, an asylum on the beach of a western suburb, and about 2,300 cots were placed in its dormitories and corridors. The cots were filled speedily with the sick sent in from Pinar del Rio.

WORK ON THE NAVY.

Men Laboring Night and Day in Uncle Sam's Yards.

NEW YORK, Dec. 21.—While there is no great activity at the navyyard in Brooklyn, work is being pushed forward with haste. The cruiser New York, which left the drydock last Friday, went down to Tompkinsville, S. I. Men are kept working overtime on the Texas and the repairs on the other ships at the yard are nearing completion.

This is in accordance with instructions received from Washington, that the North Atlantic squadron must be ready to proceed to Hampton Roads by the first of the year. Officers of the navy here refrain from discussing the probability of war with Spain resulting should congress adopt resolutions recognizing the independence of Cuba, but the sentiment was evident that there is no immediate prospect of a conflict.

NORTHERN OHIO FOR CUBA.

No Lack of Offers of Volunteers to Fight Weyler.

CLEVELAND, Dec. 21.—The feeling of sympathy for Cuba is very strong in northern Ohio, and not a day passes without offers are volunteered by ardent young men to fight for the liberation of the island. All such are referred to the junta in New York.

At a meeting yesterday of the executive committee of the Cuban-American league, presided over by H. W. Wolcott, brother of Senator Wolcott, it was decided to have a massmeeting of citizens on the eve of Jan. 2. Bourke Cockran or some other equally famous orator will be engaged as the principal speaker by the New York junta. Money is continuing to come in to the treasurer of the league, J. H. Paine.

KNOWS MA EO IS DEAD.

A Writer in the Councils of the Cubans Confirms the Report.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Dec. 21.—In a letter received by Colonel J. A. Huau, Florida's representative of the New York Cuban legation, the death of Maceo was confirmed:

The writer is a man up in the counsels of the Cuban party in Havana," said Mr. Huau, "and he knows that Maceo is really dead. While all the facts have not come to light, yet still there is no truth of the main sad truth. When all the truth is known the story as first told of Spanish treachery will be found to be mainly substantiated. The bodies can not be found, though the Cubans are seeking them very carefully for burial with honors."

Ohio Branch of the Junta.

COLUMBUS, O., Dec. 21.—State Librarian C. B. Galbreath, whose active sympathy with the Cubans has led him into extensive correspondence with the Cuban junta at New York, has made up his mind to organize a branch of the Cuban league in Columbus, and has received the requisite authority from the junta.

General Lee Departs.

NEW YORK, Dec. 21.—General Fitzhugh Lee, United States consul general at Havana, has left for his post accompanied by his wife and daughter, going by rail to Ocala, Fla. He would not discuss the senate action on Cuba, but "hoped soon to forward a favorable report to Washington."

Mob Murdered Him.

PADUCAH, Ky., Dec. 21.—George Finley, colored, was shot down by a mob in Graves county, near the McCracken county line, shortly before midnight, dying two hours afterward. He had been accused of stealing from Henry Hale, a white man, and in quarreling with Hale over the accusation cut him slightly.

Colliery Disaster in Western Russia.

BUDAPEST, Dec. 21.—The colliery disaster at Reschitza, in western Russia, resulting from an explosion of fire damp, has proved more serious than at first reported, 40 persons having been killed and 27 are still missing.

DRANK POISONED WHISKY.

Three Dead, Three Dying, Two Insane and Five Critically Ill.

SISTERSVILLE, W. Va., Dec. 21.—W. H. Price, a wealthy oil man; Charles Seibert, a merchant of Sardis, O., and Thomas Clegg, a well driller, are dead as the result of drinking poisoned whisky in a speak-easy over at Benwood, in the new Monroe county (O.) oil field. Three more men are so ill that there is no hope for them, two others are raving maniacs, tied with ropes, and five others are so sick that the chances are against them.

It seems that one of the storekeepers at Benwood got hold of the fact that a Wheeling drug firm was putting up a preparation called "essence of cinnamon" which contained a large percentage of alcohol. The merchant laid in a large supply of the stuff and informed the people about that he had a good thing. It was only received Saturday, and he sold a great deal of it during the afternoon and evening. Several who partook of the "essence" soon became ill, and three of them, after terrible sufferings, died. The symptoms were the same in all cases.

The first man taken ill was W. H. Price, on whose farm the Fisher Oil company drilled their first well. Before a physician could arrive from the nearest post, Sardis, he was dead. He died in awful agony. Mr. Price was one of the most prominent and wealthy citizens, his royalties from wells on his farm aggregating $3,000 a month. He leaves a widow and one child.

Charles Seibert, a butcher of Sardis, O., was the next attacked and he was quickly followed to eternity by Thomas Clegg, an oil driller.

Others who were attacked by the same symptoms, but are still alive, are Colonel Clegg, Henry Roth and a cook in a boardinghouse. His name can not be learned.

About 15 other persons are suffering from the effects of the poison. A number of physicians are on the ground and hope to succeed in saving their lives.

CHICAGO VISIT ENDED.

The President-Elect and His Wife Return to Canton.

CHICAGO, Dec. 21.—President-elect McKinley, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Lafayette McWilliams and their two sons, attended divine service at the Sixth Presbyterian church in Vincennes avenue yesterday morning. Mrs. McKinley was unable to accompany them.

Rev. W. P. Merrill's discourse contained not the slightest allusion to politics. All through it Major McKinley looked intently at the preacher and seemed to be taking in every word. When it was finished and the collection basket was passed he dropped a coin into it. After service the major shook hands with a number of the congregation.

There were fully 1,000 people outside the church waiting for the distinguished visitor to come out. As soon as Major McKinley appeared outside all made a rush to shake hands with him. The policemen kept many away. The party finally reached the carriage, through the window of which Major McKinley shook hands with the crowd.

Major and Mrs. McKinley dined at the home of Mrs. McKinley's uncle, Thomas Goodman, in Fulton street, and left for Canton at 11:30 o'clock last night.

The President Back in Washington.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21.—The president and his companions who have been hunting in South Carolina waters for a week returned to the city at an early hour Sunday morning via the Atlantic coast line, having left Georgetown, S. C., Saturday afternoon. The president had a restful time and feels much refreshed and invigorated after the fatigue brought on by his exacting duties preparatory to the meeting of congress. The president's good luck attended him in the sport, and the string of ducks brought home were distributed to friends in the city.

Murder For Christmas Money.

GUTHRIE, O. T., Dec. 21.—There is great excitement at Cloud Chief over a confession made by a young man under arrest for killing Alva Tripp, the farmer found murdered in bed Sunday morning, to the effect that he committed the murder to get Christmas money, and secured $1.40. He says he is one of a gang organized to murder and rob a number of citizens for money to spend during the holidays, and implicates several other young men. There are open threats of lynching and the jail is heavily guarded.

Ex-Queen Liliokalani Starts East.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 21.—Ex-Queen Liliokalani started for Boston Saturday night over the Southern Pacific, and will make a short stop at New Orleans. The dethroned monarch stated that when she arrived in Boston she would make public her plans. It is stated she has given up her intention of visiting London, but that Princess Kaiulani will go to Boston to meet her.

"Cooney the Fox" in Trouble.

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., Dec. 21.—John P. Kunze, the suspect in the famous Dr. Cronin murder case, who was known as "Cooney the Fox," has been arrested and taken to Leavenworth, Kan., charged with obtaining money under false pretenses. Kunze recently bought the Hotel Imperial in that city for $35,000, giving a check for $500 on account and pending a settlement of the deal, borrowed considerable money and left town without repaying it.

LAST RANGER DEAD.

Washington Irving's Hero Passes Away in Arkansas.

LITTLE ROCK, Dec. 21.—James A. Meacham, the ranger who caught the black mare, an incident so graphically described by Washington Irving in "A Tour of the Prairies," is dead.

Meacham's death, which occurred at his home in Sharp county, Ark., makes the passing away of the last member of the company of rangers who accompanied the commissioners appointed by the United States government in 1832 to settle the Indians west of the Mississippi river. Washington Irving was a member of the commissioners' train, and gathered his data for his book while on this expedition. Meacham was born in 1810.

INDICATIONS—Generally cloudy weather; probably light local snows; slightly colder light to variable winds.

THERE are 388,000 men in the State between the ages of eighteen and forty years. Just tell these Kentuckians to do so, and they would soon bring Spain to terms.

THE Louisville Commercial refers to the lynching of three murderers at Russellville as "a disgrace to the State." Of course it is, but what about the officials at Frankfort who encourage lynchings by turning convicted murderers out of prison? That's where much of the blame should fall.

Editorial Comment.

Cynthiana Democrat: "The gold single standard men are so select, you know—such sticklers for good form, etiquette and all that sort of thing,—that we fear they can never forgive Dr. Hunter for having flirted with the Hon. Horace J. Poor, a mere Pop. in their estimation. The Dr. may vow and vow and vow on a stack of bibles as big as Logan Carlisle's conceit that he is a gold man, but they'll never consider him a clean thing."

Owentown News: "Whatever may be the intentions of Mr. McKinley, it is plain now that the framers of the St. Louis platform had no other idea of bimetallism, national or international, than to catch votes. They have no more idea now of permitting McKinley to negotiate an international agreement than they have in asking the government to pay their bonds in silver. The whole schedule was a lie and a swindle, done to perpetuate their grip upon the government."

MISS COLLINS' TRAGIC FATE.

Her Death One of the Saddest Episodes in Recent History—Its Lesson of Deepest Significance.

[Lexington Gazette.]

The tragic and mysterious death of Miss Collins, of Midway, Ky., and her companion S. P. Putman, of Massachusetts, is one of those tragedies that brings sorrow and deep regret, not only into the family, but to the general public. Miss Collins was intellectually a brilliant and advanced thinker and deeply versed in the reading of skepticism and infidelity. She was taught in the Sunday school and well versed in biblical literature, but was led away by the false teaching of Ingersol and other free thinkers till she repudiated the lessons of her youth and gave herself up to the fascinating applause derivable from the platform which greeted her every public appearance. She was the idol of her parents who indulged her every wish even to permitting her to cast aside the restraints of revealed religion. The dangers to a woman who forsakes her religion are tenfold greater than those of a man. The physical infirmities of women impose on them sufferings and weakness to which their brothers are strangers, and as Michlet says, "they are sick from puberty to old age," and it is hardly possible for women who are torn away or who tear themselves away from the teachings of childhood to find a new system or to adopt teachings antagonistic to those imbibed at the mother's knee, without danger to her moral and mental well-being.

All men honor women who live pious, godly and religious lives, and they fear and avoid the free-thinker, the atheist and the non-religious female. The parent who does not check a tendency in his child to atheism or even undue levity on the subject of religion is derelict in the most essential duties of parenthood. The death of this brilliant girl is one of the saddest episodes in recent history, but it carries a warning and a lesson of the deepest significance. It warns all parents to check, with whatever authority they can exert, any tendency in their children to adopt views not based upon the morality that has its foundation in religion. Morality without religion has no stable foundation to rest upon. In fact, many philosophers contend that morality is religion—that they are the counterpart of each other. If those fond parents of Miss Collins had not given way to admiration of her brilliancy, and sternly rebuked her tendency to infidelity and atheism, they might have saved her from the great calamity that overwhelmed them all. God's command to Old Eli to "restrain his sons," holds as good to-day as it did in the old times, and punishment will as surely follow its neglect of it to-day as it did in the patriarch. While we are not a preacher, we claim by age and long service to be a teacher and every consideration and long observation and experience teaches us, and leads us to teach others, to insist that their children adhere to the religion of their childhood. Religion is as old as the history of man, and nothing new has been revealed for 1900 years and those who pretend to have discovered a new religion or a wiser interpretation than their fathers, are false prophets and false teachers. While we condemn the want of parental restraint put upon this unfortunate girl, it does not blind us to their great sorrow nor does it harden us to withhold sincerest sympathy in the greatest bereavement that can befall a father and mother.

A Snake Story, Old But True.

Quite a number of years ago Mr. Fenton Owens, who will be remembered by many older citizens, saw a blacksnake crawl into a hole in a log. He made a plug and drove it tightly into the hole, securely imprisoning the snake. He made a note of the day, even to the very hour and minute of the imprisonment, told his friends about it, and one year later took several of his neighbors as witnesses, and stood with his watch in his hand while the others prepared to split the log with maul and wedge. In exactly one year to a minute the log was split open and the snake ran out alive, shooting out its tongue as saucily as if it had not been shut up five minutes instead of a year.—Dover News.

No Kick Coming.

Hon. William O'Connell Bradley, Governor of Kentucky, has always seemed to be a vigorous person, and it looks wrong to catch him in the act of pitying himself. "I think I have been the most ill-used executive officer in the country," he is reported as saying; "everybody, it seems, wants to tell me what to do." But if this is all Governor Bradley has to complain of, he is perfectly well used. Everybody in Kentucky has the right and privilege to tell him what to do. And he has a perfect right not to do it, if he doesn't choose. Governor Bradley shouldn't get into the habit of regarding himself as injured because people afflict him with advice. It is a medicine which will often keep, but it does not harm to have it in the house, even if you don't want to take it.

A Variety of Husbands and Religions.

Bourbon News: "The Bourbon County Infirmary has for nearly fifteen years sheltered a queer character in the person of one of the female members of the household. She is seventy-five years old, is now living with her seventh husband, and has changed her religion five times. As the widow of her sixth husband she was entitled to a pension, and application for the bounty was quickly followed by a request for a permit to take unto herself husband No. 7, who is blind. Being advised that the marriage would invalidate her pension claim, she was told to choose between a pension and a husband. She meditated a moment and replied 'I don't know the value of a pension but I do know a husband's value. Gimme the husband!'

The suits and overcoats Hechinger & Co. advertise for $15 are doubtless the greatest bargains in fine clothing ever offered our people. Owing to the general depression of money matters high-priced goods in all lines did not move briskly this season. This accounts for the extremely low prices that Hechinger & Co. offer their finest suits and overcoats at. The unmade material in many of these garments actually cost more than you pay for the garment made. Casually looking over these advertised bargains we venture to say there will be a great rush for them.

DESTROYED BY FIRE.

Millions of Dollars' Worth of Property Consumed.

HOLOCAUST IN NEW YORK CITY

A Family of Five Perish in Their Dwelling. Fired by the Upsetting of a Piano Lamp. Thirty-Five Houses Destroyed in a Virginia Village—Fire in New Brunswick, N. J.—Other Fire Losses.

NEW YORK, Dec. 21.—The explosion of a piano lamp on the second floor of the 4-story residence, 514 East Fifty-eighth street, resulted in the loss of five lives last night. The dead are:

Aaron Goldsmith, 45 years old.
Chotilde Goldsmith, his wife, 38 years old.

Bertha Goldsmith, 10 years old.
Harry Goldsmith, 8 years old.
Frank Goldsmith, 6 years old.

The only other person in the house at the time of the fire was Mary Rosa, aged 20, a domestic servant, who saved her life by jumping out of the window.

The family was together during the evening, the only member of the household, a Mr. Hirsch, brother of Mrs. Goldsmith, having gone out shortly after the evening meal. According to the story told by the servant, she was on the third floor of the building in the act of putting Harry and Frank, the two youngest boys to bed, when she heard the cry of fire coming from the floor below, with calls to her to come down. She ran out of the bedroom and hurried down the stairs and the little children followed her. As soon as she looked into the front room of the second floor she saw the whole front end of the room ablaze. Then she became frightened and ran out into a rear room and jumped from an open window to the ground. What more happened she does not know, but she says that the fire was caused by the upsetting of a large piano lamp.

THIRTY-FIVE HOUSES BURNED.

East Bedford, Virginia, Almost Entirely Wiped Out by Fire.

EAST RADFORD, Dec. 21.—About 2:30 o'clock Sunday morning fire was discovered in the grocery of T. J. Howell on First street. The flames spread very rapidly, burning in three directions, entirely consuming 35 houses, of which the majority were stores. The loss is very heavy, estimated at over $100,000, with insurance about $10,000. Most of the goods were saved.

The heaviest losers are Roberts & Company, dry goods and notions; Wygall & Company, drugs; Nowell's grocery; Lyle & Carson, drugs; Kohlhousen, jewelry; Linsley, dry goods; Phillips, drugs; Meats & Burke, clothing; postoffice; Darnell, photographer; Hurley, millinery; Tyler, dry goods; Hoffman, hotel, and a number of other smaller firms.

The fire company from Roanoke was summoned, as there was no company here, but it arrived too late to be of any assistance. Most of the buildings were frame and burned very rapidly. The fire is supposed to have originated in a hall over Nowell's grocery, used by the negroes for dances and club meetings. Many of the merchants will rebuild at once with bricks.

THEATER BUILDING BURNED.

Nearly Half a Million Fire Loss at New Brunswick, N. J.

NEW BRUNSWICK, Dec. 21.—One of the most destructive fires that has occurred in this place for many years broke out at 12:30 this morning at Allen's theater building, which is situated at the corner of George and Albany streets. The building is 150 feet front on George street and 220 feet on Albany street, and contains Allen's theater, the common council chambers of New Brunswick and the Traction company's offices, also the Masonic rooms. On the ground floor is Leonard Scheigib's cafe.

The fire started in the rear of the stage and quickly gutted the building.

John O'Brien, stage manager of the theater, was found lying on his trunk in an unconscious condition. He was taken out by firemen.

Joseph Castner and wife, janitors of the building, were found on the fourth floor of the burned building running from one room to another. They also were rescued by firemen.

The burned building was owned by the Newark Building association, having built it in 1872, at a cost of $240,000, and is the largest in the city. The cause of the fire is unknown.

VILLAGE VISITED BY FIRE.

Over a Hundred Thousand Dollars Worth of Property Destroyed.

UXBRIDGE, Mass., Dec. 21.—One of the greatest conflagrations that has occurred in Worcester county for many years broke out in the heart of the business section at an early hour yesterday, and before it could be controlled four large business blocks and three other buildings had been reduced to ashes, entailing a loss of over $100,000, upon which there is an insurance in various companies of $65,000.

It is not known what caused the fire, but flames were first noticed in two different places in the big 3-story wooden block owned by H. E. Gunn. The wooden buildings owned by A. E. Toft, Christian Gredig and E. M. Goldthwaite were destroyed. The arrival of a section of the Worcester fire department was timely, and the flames were soon checked.

Fire at Fitzgerald.

INDIANAPOLIS, Dec. 21.—P. H. Fitzgerald, who with other Indians founded the town of Fitzgerald, Ga., received a dispatch yesterday announcing that fire had destroyed all the business blocks on Grant street, both sides, from Pine to Magnolia. Loss, $75,000; insurance about $25,000.

Three Burglars, Three Years.

KINGWOOD, W. Va., Dec. 21.—The three burglars, Randal Peters and Shyder, who entered a store at Rowlesburg last Monday night, were indicted and sentenced Saturday. A special grand jury indicted the prisoners, and when arraigned they each pleaded guilty. They were sentenced to the state penitentiary for three years each. The prisoners were all under 25 years of age, and claim to be from Chicago.

RAILROAD WRECK IN LOUISIANA.

Three Men Killed and Seven Others Badly Injured.

SHREVEPORT, La., Dec. 21.—About 5 o'clock Sunday morning there was a bad wreck on the Texas and Pacific railroad near Sodus, La. Although no information is given by railroad officials, yet it is learned from private sources that three men were killed and seven badly injured.

It appears as if a westbound freight was going up a steep grade a collision occurred at the foot of the grade, the crash splintering several cars. None of the trainmen were injured as they were back in the caboose. The conductor, assisted by his men, rescued the injured, and they have arrived here and have been sent to the Charity hospital. Following are the wounded: C. L. Gates, St. Paul; Dave Miller, St. Louis; Frank Terry, Argentine, Colo.; Charles Williams, Jerry Henderson and George Brown, residence unknown. The names of the killed are not known.

DESERTED HUSBAND'S REVENGE.

His Wife and Her Father Shot and Both Fatally Wounded.

FORT SCOTT, Kas., Dec. 21.—Late yesterday evening, while on their way to make an evening call, William B. Reno and daughter, Mrs. May Bryant, were shot and fatally wounded by George Bryant, husband of Mrs. Bryant. Bryant approached the man and asked if he could speak to his wife, who recently left him. Reno replied: "No," at which Bryant commenced to shoot.

Mr. Reno was shot in the right breast and back, while Mrs. Bryant received two bullets in the back, just under the shoulder.

Bryant fled immediately after the shooting, and is still at large. The would-be murderer is about 35 years old. Bryant is thought by his parents and some of his companions to be insane.

Twice-a-week Courier-Journal.

Beginning the first of the new year, the Weekly Courier-Journal, of Louisville, Ky., will be changed to the Twice-a-week Courier-Journal. It will be published Wednesday and Saturday mornings. The paper will be six pages, or twelve pages a week, instead of ten pages weekly, as at present, an increase of 832 columns of matter during the year. The Wednesday issue will be devoted exclusively to news and politics, while the Saturday issue will be strictly a family paper—filled with stories, miscellany, pictures, poetry, sketches, etc. The politics of the paper will not be changed, and the battle for pure Democracy and true Democratic principles will be continued successfully in the future as in the past. In spite of the expense involved in the improvements noted, the price of the Twice-a-week Courier-Journal will remain the same, one dollar a year, with liberal inducements to agents or old subscribers who send in new ones. A feature during the coming year will be the editorials of Mr. Henry Watterson on political and other topics of the day.

MRS. ELIZA MCCLANAHAN, of East Second street, is confined to her bed with a severe attack of grip.

CINCINNATI TOBACCO MARKET.

It Closed Stronger Than It Opened Last Week—Active Demand and Full Prices.

The Cincinnati Leaf Tobacco Warehouse Company, in its circular for the week, has the following:

The market closed much stronger than it opened at the beginning of the week, as the buyers did not appear to bid with much anxiety on Tuesday and Wednesday, but on Thursday the competition was very strong and prices advanced over the first two days offerings from 1 to 2 cents, and closed on Friday with an active demand and full prices.

Offerings on Wednesday were very large and the sales closed at the Globe Warehouse, and the last house was obliged to sell on Thursday. The sales being so large on Wednesday caused the buyers to bid carelessly and the rejections were very large, which stimulated the bidding, and was the probable cause of the market advancing on Thursday, which proved the most satisfactory sale for several days, and the rejections were very small.

This week being Christmas, the sales will probably close on Thursday and remain closed until the first Tuesday in January; therefore we will only have three more sale days in this year.

The receipt of new tobacco have been very large, and a great part being sold upon arrival. The market seems to strengthen as the season advances, as some good crops have averaged from 7¢ to 10¢ round, the highest price obtained being $16.75. The worm eaten and house burned crops are selling low, but we see no future for these grades of tobacco, and the sooner they are disposed of the better. From present prospects there will be a good demand for all serviceable tobacco, and our shippers may depend upon a good, steady market for sound tobacco. The stock of old goods is gradually decreasing, and, while prices are no higher than one month ago, the holders are disposing of the same and getting ready to handle the new, as they are aware that the manufacturers will discard the old for the new crop as soon as the shipments are sufficiently large to supply them.

A Card.

I wish to say to my friends and patrons that, owing to the hard times and slow sales, I have been compelled to assign my stock of goods, consisting of books, toys, millinery, dolls and notions. These goods are all new and fresh and will be closed out by the assignee at prices so low that none can complain. All I ask of my friends now is to stand by me as faithfully as they have heretofore.

Come and see the stock of goods offered for sale, and I am satisfied none will go away without purchasing, thus enabling me to overcome the trouble that I am now in. Respectfully, ANNA M. FRAZAR.
